FRONT COVER

Winspit.

Although the cover picture follows the theme of earlier photos Winspit is better known for its caves. These caves are the result of quarrying in the 18th & 19th centuries, or possibly even earlier.

Quarrying has been carried out in the Purbecks since Roman times; and much of the re-building of London in the 15th century after the Great Fire made use of stone from the area. Most of the cathedrals in the South of England use Portland or Purbeck stone and marble, and it has been exported all over the world for prestigious buildings.

The Royal Navy had a base here during WW2, and in more recent years the caves have played home to several episode of Dr Who.

Current and archived results, Gas & Air, averages etc., are also published in PDF format on www.dsrpa.co.uk.

Generally speaking they will be available before postal results are received.
